ANNUAL SHOW AT CAMP BUCCOU IS WELL RECEIVED

Residents From Nearby Sec-

A. EASTBURN SPEAKS

Bucks County District Attorney Tells of Generosity of Folks in Their Support

With Japanese lanterns gleaming and the happy chatter of Bucks County folks meeting their neighbors living near the Bucks County Boy Scout camp show was given this year with an accompaniment of laughter, applause and clever acting.

The show was given, as in previous years, on the porch of the Doylestown Kiwanis Club Crafts Lodge with the hillside dotted with men, women, Scouts, cubs and children.

Scout Executive William Livermore introduced Arthur M. Eastburn, chairman of the camping committee, who extended a cordial welcome to everyone to enjoy the evening activity. Mr.
Eastburn also spoke of the willing sacrifice that had been made by many Bucks County individuals to make possible the scout camp along the Raritan.

The introduction of each scene was made by Eagle Scout James Townsend, Langhorne, who served as director of the pageant, assisted by Fred Clymer, Doylestown. Each scene was cleverly introduced by "Jim" Townsend, Carl Leidy and Ken Fretz gave a number of short skits.

The cub camp received many rounds of applause for its clever interpretation of the Little Red School House. A mimic boxing scene by the Waterfront and Indian Village camps was specially well owing to the generous application of water to the bodies of the boxers. Harold Washburn, Morrisville, gave an exceptional interpretation of a rustic rube and his mandolin, singing many old songs which were especially enjoyable to the older folks and had a soothing effect on the younger listeners.

Cab Calloway of radio fame and his rubber band were interpreted under the leadership of Eagle Scout Robert Wright, Bristol; with Chief Earl Hagerman, Newtown, as soloist, and the accompaniment of the antics of the trap playing by Eagle Scout George Herman, Bristol; radio bass drum played by Eagle Scout Edward Baumeister of South Langhorne and the chorus of gazoops played by the other members of the camp staff. Dick Lindenfelser of Langhorne as the high and mighty king, protected by a Nubian, played by "Doc" Enion, of Morrisville, gave the crowd many laughs.

The most impressive conclusion was achieved by the playing of Taps by Bugler Leonard Herman, Bristol, with "Jim" Townsend, Langhorne, playing the echo bugle from the top of the hillside. The audience stood at attention while the spotlight shined Scoutmaster Paul Nichols, Morrisville, as the spirit of Scout leadership with his arms protecting "Boyhood," represented by one of the Scout and Cub campers.

Quakertown Business Places Close for Day to Enable Employees to Attend

Weyhill Farms, Bethlehem, R. D. 4; Laukmont Farms, Wrightstown; Max which were conducted under auspices of the Bucks County Farm Bureau.

Dozens of the borough's stores and industries closed yesterday to permit employees to attend the 15th annual fair exhibitions.

Representatives of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association of which A. H. Stover, Dublin, is local chairman, addressed the farmers of the section yesterday afternoon.

Judging of exhibits was also started yesterday.

PLAN HUNGER STRIKE

Philadelphia, Aug. 25.—Every policeman was in readiness today as unemployment organizations prepared to stage a "hunger march" demonstration at Rayburn Plaza near City Hall.

Hand bills which were circulated, urging the jobless to join the meeting were met by declarations by Assistant Superintendent of Police Joseph Le-Strange that no permit had been issued for the demonstration.

GET $10,000 LIQUOR CARGO

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 25.—Five men were captured, four jumped overboard and 800 cases of liquor were confiscated today when coast guards seized a converted fishing sloop at the mouth of Clam Creek. The captors said the liquor was worth about $40,000.

URGE ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Harrisburg, Aug. 25.—A concerted move was under way today by hotel men affiliated with the Pennsylvania Hotels Association to urge Governor Pinchot to bring about immediate improvement of sections of Route 422, between Harrisburg and Philadelphia and Route 22 between Reading and Allentown. Peter L. Weimer, chairman of the Highways Committee, in letters to hotel men in Lehigh, Lebanon, Berks, Dauphin, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties, urged them to write the Governor concerning the improvement.

Federal funds amounting to $5,200-000, are immediately available for such work, Weimer stated in his communication.

SEE EARHART'S PLANE

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 25.—An airplane similar to Amelia Earhart's ship passed over Wichita around midnight, officials of the Transcontinental Western Air Express Terminal reported today. This is the last report of the famous woman flier since the craft believed to have been hers was heard over Amarillo, Texas, late last night flying eastward at high altitude on her attempted non-stop record flight from coast to coast.

CONDITIONS QUIET IN UPPER-END TOWNS

Perkasie and Sellersville Are Again Normal, Says
Report

DISCHARGE RIOT SQUAD

PERKASIE, Aug. 25.—Conditions in Perkasie have settled down to the usual small town routine with not a ripple on the surface which indicates trouble.

After a two-weeks' eventless siege, Perkasie and Sellersville have both cast off their war-like appearance, and although the clothing industry is still in shaky condition, the upper end towns are back to normalcy.

Perkasie's "riot-squad," which did not find a single riot on which to operate, went off duty after Sunday night's watch, the contracts of the thirteen men automatically closing at the end of the two-week period.

So far as can be determined, there was no need for the extra men, who were sworn in hurriedly when Perkasie was in a near-panic, following the bombing of the Branch Storage Company's office in Philadelphia.

The riot squad, augmented by the local police force and by private guards at all the clothing factories and the Branch Storage headquarters, stood guard nightly, in tense expectations of an open or stealthy attempts to plant explosives at any one of a half dozen or more "hot spots" in the town.

The invisible enemies of the upper end towns were racketeers and New York clothing strikers, the latter, mounting into the thousands, being practically beyond the control of the police in the clothing centers of that city. The disorder in New York resulted in the beating of several drivers of the Branch Storage trucks, and the stopping of transportation of material by truck, but none of the trouble extended within the Pennsylvania borders.

The Branch Storage announced last week that it would discontinue transporting material, virtually surrendering to the strikers. Yesterday the mesh guard wire was taken from the trucks, which have not been molested since this declaration was made public.

The clothing manufacturers of Perkasie and Sellersville were called to a meeting of manufacturers in New York, Monday, but so far, nothing has been made public as to the nature of the session.

The trouble arises from the fact that the workers in the clothing factories of New York, through their union, refuse to work at wages comparable to the pay received by the workers in the towns of Pennsylvania. An in-their daughters, Janet Lee, 6, and Kathryn, 8. A navigator, radio man and photographer were also included in the crew of the aerial caravan.

ARREST FOUR FOR PASSING "BAD" MONEY

May Be Same Group That Operated Here Few Weeks Ago

2 CAUGHT AT FREEHOLD

Two men have been arrested in Freehold, N. J., charged with passing counterfeit $10 and $20 bills, and four others were arrested in Asbury Park, N. J., and it is believed that perhaps they are the same persons who recently passed out counterfeit $10 bills here in Bristol, at which time local merchants took them over their counters.

The two were arrested in Freehold yesterday through the alertness of a woman. They are accused of passing the bills to Freehold merchants and to proprietors of roadside stands.

The men in custody are Louis An-tonetti, 40 years old, and Ralph Artelgier, 29 years old, who conduct a road stand on the Marlboro Road, a short distance from Freehold.

The accused men, who were taken into custody by Chief of Police Neal DeVries, of Freehold, and John L. Sullivan, of New York, a Department of Justice investigator, will be arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner Carton at Asbury Park.

Three Freehold merchants reported to police Monday that they had received spurious $10 and $20 bills after making sales to two men who looked like foreigners. On Tuesday, Mrs.
Dennis Buckley, who conducts a fruit and vegetable stand near here sold nearly $6 worth of chickens to two men. One tendered a $20 bill and the woman was a little suspicious of the paper when she looked at it.

"Are you sure this bill is a good one?" she asked the man who handed it to her.

"Sure it is, and I wish I had more of them," replied the stranger.

Mrs. Buckley jotted down the number of the automobile license as the two men drove away. On presenting the bill at a Freehold bank and being told it was a counterfeit, Mrs. Buckley turned the auto license number over to Chief of Police DeVries. After a check-up, Antonetti and Artelgier were arrested.

Police at Asbury Park, N. J., arrested four persons who allegedly have been passing counterfeit money.

They seized two men who said they were Rene Rouleau, 32, of 279 Tompkins avenue, Brooklyn, and John J.
O'Brien, alias Callahan, of 108 West 71st street, New York, as they were leaving a lunch wagon where they had passed a counterfeit $10 bill.

Then they broke into a room in the St. Claire Hotel and nabbed Edward McVeigh, 32, of Norwich, Conn., and Mrs. Eva Rouleau, 25, wife of Rene.
The police said they found $110 in counterfeit $10 bills on Rouleau, and added that Mrs. Rouleau had admitted getting rid of $350 worth of fake money.

100 Former Employees Called Back to Work

Some additional employment is reported in Bristol and it was stated today that about 100 former employees of the Warner J. Steel plant are being called back to work.

Only those who have been former employees are being given work, it is stated.

It is not announced how long the increased activity will continue.

FLIERS LEAVE HARBOR GRACE FOR NORWAY

Plane of Lee and Bochkon is Fueled for 31 Hours
In the Air

WEATHER IS EXCELLENT

HARBOR GRACE, NEWFOUND-LAND, Aug. 25.—Carrying enough fuel for 31 hours in the air, Clyde L. Lee, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and John Bochkon, Brooklyn, took off at 7:36 a. m. local time (6:06 E. D. T.) for Oslo, Norway.

Their bright red plane, "Green Mountain Boy" in which they left Barre, Vermont, Tuesday afternoon, took the air gracefully under a load of 450 gallons of gasoline. It was a beautiful morning with brilliant sunshine and clear skies giving the fliers excellent visibility. The wind was from the west with a velocity of 15 miles an hour. Reports of the weather across the Atlantic were favorable and the Americans expected to reach their goal in about thirty hours, making them due at the Norwegian capitol about 12:30 p. m.

They were in excellent spirits as they left the airport. They intend using the fuel in their large tanks first and then the 200 gallons in five gallon tanks. The purpose of this is to provide buoyancy in case they should be forced down in the ocean.

A large crowd of citizens cheered Lee and Bochkon as they arrived at the airport completely rested after a long night's rest.

ton, N. J.

The couple first obtained an application for their marriage license and then drove to Doylestown to get the license, returning here for the ceremony.

Miss Peto was accompanied by her parents.

Witnesses at the ceremony were James L. McGee, superintendent of

HE KNOWS HIS "GAS" CANS

(By "The Stroller")

A dusty traveler was walking down Bristol Pike a few nights ago, bearing a gasoline can. A motorist enroute to Philadelphia from his Bristol office, halted, the can-bearer hopped in, and they continued on their way.

"How far down is your car?" the motorist asked the one with the gasoline can. "I don't have a car," came the reply.

"What's the idea of the can then?" queried the autoist.

"Oh, people pick you up quicker if they think you've run out of gas," was the quick response.

Third Big Freighter Due Up River Today

The German freighter, Tannenfels, passed Bristol, shortly before nine o'clock this morning, bound out to sea. This is the second ocean-going vessel to pass through the upper Delaware channel since it was deepened to 20 feet.

The Tannenfels unloaded her cargo at Trenton arriving at the Trenton Marine Terminals on Monday.

This afternoon the American ship Malchase of the Mallory line is expected to pass here enroute to Trenton, where she will take aboard potatoes for Jacksonville, Fla., and Savannah, Ga.

NORTH PENN FACTORIES PLAN TO ORGANIZE

Plants in Bucks, Montgomery and Lehigh Counties to Be Included

ABOUT 30 IN THE GROUP

North Penn clothing manufacturers will form an organization, to be known as the Eastern Pennsylvania Clothing Manufacturers Association, for the purpose of mutual protection in future disturbances. While details of the plan have not been disclosed, it is said that the association project was decided upon at a closed meeting of the manufacturers in the Perkasie fire hall. About thirty owners of factories in Bucks, Montgomery, and Lehigh counties, representing seventy-five per cent of the clothing plants in this section, were present.

The session followed a manufacturers committee meeting with a representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union of New York, held earlier in the evening, the details of which were made known at the general meeting. Details of the meetings were not made public. The Branch Storage Company was not represented at the sessions. At the present time, it has not been determined whether the local workers will form a union but the local factory owners have been approached by the Amalgamated Union. It is believed that this action will necessarily follow in order to keep the factories in rural Pennsylvania active.

Branch Storage has joined with a trucking union in New York City. Engine Hendricks, manager of the Branch Storage headquarters in Perkasie, stated this morning that an agreement had been made with the Amalgamated Union to the effect that the company will hand work only to union workers. It is believed that the agreement was made in anticipation of the proposed union of North Penn workers and manufacturers. At the present time, the company is not handling clothing and it is not known when they will resume the practice.

According to reports, the strike has cooled down considerably in New York and truckers are not being molested by rioters.

The present situation, according to Mr. Hendricks, is such as has never occurred in eastern Pennsylvania before. It is unique that it involves three cities, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, and New York, and a number of rural sections. Although Philadelphia has been quiet, manufacturers in that city are keeping an anxious eye on New York.

Mrs. Harry Baker, Pittsburgh, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bennett, Maple Beach.

Bared R. F. C. Secrets

South Trimble, Democratic clerk of the House of Representatives, who is regarded by many as having defied the President, the Senate and all the directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Trimble made public the R. F. C.'s detailed report of its loans, despite orders that the report was to be kept secret.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR NEW AIR-LINE HIGHWAY

Work Expected to Start at Once on Lincoln Highway Relocation

CONTRACT IS $345,679.53

The contract for the first link in the Lincoln Highway cut-off between Philadelphia and Yardley today had been awarded to the Union Paying Company, Philadelphia, at a cost of $345,679.53.

Plans for the project call for 3.31 miles of concrete pavement, forty feet wide to accommodate four lanes of traffic, State Highway Department officials said.

The cut-off extends from the Roosevelt Boulevard in Philadelphia to a point near Janney Station, traversing Bensalem and Middletown Townships, Bucks County.

Awarding of the contract is the first tangible move toward the ultimate relocation and complete relief of the Lincoln Highway between Philadelphia and the Delaware River.

The contract price also includes the cost of the construction of a concrete bridge over the Neshaminy Creek.

"This marks the culmination of 15 years of agitation by organized moterists," Samuel S. Lewis, Secretary of Highways, said today.

The highway will be an air-line route and will be built along the most advanced lines of engineering.

CONCERNING HOLIDAYS

Some day somebody somewhere will be moved to utter a warning against the unlicensed multiplication of legal holidays. The more holidays we get, the less inclined people are to take them seriously. A few enthusiastically observed would be better for the object intended than many indifferently celebrated or neglected altogether.

New Year long ago lost its significance for most people. Even the public schools usually do not close for Lincoln's birthday or for Columbus Day. Comparatively few observe Thanksgiving as a religious festival. Even Memorial Day has become more a touring and outing occasion than one for remembering those who saved the Union.

If legal holidays are to be merely occasions for escaping work they might as well be distributed evenly through the year. It would simplify matters, for instance, to have a specified day of every month made a legal holiday, taking its name in case from some historic anniversary occurring within the month.

The tendency, of course, is always to multiply, never to decrease, the number of holidays. We may ignore a holiday, but we never legislate it out of existence; and it is small honor to a hero or an historic event for the public generally either to neglect the holiday set aside in commemoration or to turn the celebration into channels foreign to its original purpose.

Who will be first seriously to suggest a revision of holiday schedules in the interests of a harassed and confused mankind.

GOLD FLOWS BACK

An increase of more than $27,000,000 in monetary gold for the week-ended August 3 is shown in the report of the Federal Reserve banks, thus ending a long period of foreign withdrawals.

With the nation's total gold holdings now at $4,000,000,000 and increasing, gloom is given another setback. When gold was being steadily withdrawn from the United States by foreign nations, business was steadily growing worse.

Now that the gold movement has been reversed too much significance cannot be attached to the new movement as a business index.

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY

BY ANTHONY ABBOT

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY COWLEY-FRIEDL INC., DISTRIBUTED BY KINS FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

HE went on through the memoranda that disclosed what was happening throughout the five boroughs of the Greater City. A trigger woman had killed her gangster lover not far from the Doyers Street bend in Chinatown. She had got away, but an hour later, her body, chopped in seven pieces, had been found in a baker's wagon on Third Avenue. From this macabre note, Colt turned to smile at the account of what happened to a young New York university student while on a walk through Central Park. A rare stopped by, in which three good-looking girls were riding. They noticed him into their car and drove off with him. Hours later he was discovered stumbling along through a deserted path that wound at last into the lights of Long Island's Merrick Road. He had been criminally assaulted by these amorous Amazons. Up to a late hour no trace of his captors had been found. A case of penny-weighting of expensive jewels was reported from one of the important Fifth Avenue jewelers. Johnny Silvers, the felon who had escaped from Sing Sing several months before, had at last been located. He had allowed himself to be arrested as a vagrant in a small Georgia town, and had thus lain perfectly hidden in a small town jail. He would have remained entirely safe in he had not written a letter to his sweetheart in Brooklyn. The police had never stopped watching her; they got the letter first and Silvers had been in the line-up that morning. Apparently there was a fresh epidemic of hotel thieves operating in Brooklyn and Colt made a special notation to get Flynn busy on that as soon as the scorpion murder cases were disposed of.

"You must have hopes of cleaning the murders up pretty soon," he remarked, as I read that pencilled memorandum.

Colt's hand toyed with the little ivory bust of Homer that he always close to his ink-stand.

"I do," he informed me. "There is only one thing needed to set us on the right track and I believe we shall have that in our hands in a few hours at the latest. I know now that this is not an original crime, Tony."

"I have heard you say that you do not believe there is such a thing as an original crime."

"Did I ever say that? Well, doubtless I was right. Anyway, I have just remembered the Falk case in Vienna. There was a scorpion shoved up the sleeve of a numismatist in that case. In many of its features the two sets of crimes resemble each other. It is possible that the killer of two of our victims had known of that case. On the other hand it may be a case of spontaneous similarity—like the patent applications that duplicate each other, constantly received in Washington. Or like the Evers case in Newark. Remember that one—where we found the body of the sailor, with a naked woman tattooed on his arm? And I said he wasn't a sailor because the United States Navy will not enlist a man who has pornographic tattooing on the prudes! Well, there is just as obvious a clue as that nude lady, staring us in the face. I have seen it very early in the game, but there are some missing factors which are holding me up. When I have those factors, Tony, I expect to close up this case—and we will put the scorpion legs that old Professor Luckner found for us in the glass case of the Headquarters Crime Museum. Meanwhile, Tony, let me remind you that you have not been home all night or all day. You have been without sleep for nearly forty-eight hours. What will the charming Betty Canfield, Abbott think of me, if I keep you on the go like this? I stole you from her New Year's party last night and I have kept you here ever since. Call her up now and tell her that you are coming home."

I was grabbing hat and coat, ready to dash, when Captain Israel Henry laid a thick envelope on the Commissioner's desk.

The chief looked at his watch. "But you will have to be back here by eight this evening," he stipulated.

I was grabbing hat and coat, ready to dash, when Captain Israel Henry, the faithful, the silver-haired, stole silently into the room and laid a thick envelope on the Commissioner's desk.

"A long despatch from Paris," he announced.

I couldn't leave then. I knew how important the Paris information about Lola Carewe seemed to Colt. True, I could not see why. This was a New York crime and I could not understand how he could figure that its roots lay overseas. But I did know that he was governed always by sheer reason—though at times it did seem a trifle adventurous—and that there was solid, practical sense behind his great expectancy. He was my chief, and he had slept no more than I, True, again, there was no wife at home to worry and fret for Thatcher Colt. Which, so it seemed to me, was all the more reason I should stick with him

With this, my wife agrees, in principle.

Hastily Colt spread out the teletyped sheets. The report was made entirely in English, and consisted of a personal message from M. Dupont, the Prefect of the Parisian Police, to Thatcher Colt.

"I have made a complete survey of the history of Basil Boucher," cabled M. Dupont. "It is certain that the woman he loved was Lola Carewe, the woman whose murder you are investigating. I have made exhaustive inquiries to establish this fact. It is also certain that up to the time he met Lola Carewe, this young man's was an exemplary life. He lived with his parents in the Rue du Temple, not far from the Square. Basil was a bank clerk who was even able to save money out of his meagre salary, in addition to providing for his father and mother. They were superior people, and well educated, but they had come down in the world. Then the father died. It was soon after this—possibly because now he had more money to spend—that Basil began to play in his life. In fact, the young gentleman found himself for the first time in funds. He was not a wastrel, a gambler, or anything like that. But he just went around having a good time, modestly, and with gusto. There were several nymphs de la pave with whom he became rather well acquainted. He felt that no one of his friends or business associates was aware of these miniature adventures. And he felt himself something of a devil of a fellow."

NEWPORTVILLE, Aug. 25.—E. H. Middleton, of Newportville; E. Kelly, and Frank Shultz, of Philadelphia, returned to their homes yesterday from a 12-day automobile trip to Dallas, Texas, where they visited Mr. Shultz's parents.

Three days were required for the trip to Dallas, the trio stopping the first night at Bristol, Tenn., and the second night at Memphis. They came home via St. Louis, Mo., three and a half days being required for the homeward jaunt. The men found the weather extremely hot in Texas during the daytime, but the nights pleasantly cool.

THE FALLSINGTON OAKS

At the Friends' Meeting House grounds at Fallsington are to be found a number of oaks which are believed to date back to the time of William Penn, the handsome specimens at the time of the visit of this Quaker leader being small but sturdy saplings.

Two to which especial attention is called are much admired. The one, 11 feet, 10 inches in circumference at five feet from the ground, is located at the end of the stone shed on the premises.

The spread of this giant is 94 feet, and one branch stretches out a distance of 65 feet. In viewing the branch, George W. Webster, former Philadelphia city engineer, stated "No steel members would stand such strain."

The second tree which is viewed by many with interest measures 14 feet in girth. The spread of the branches on this is unusual also. This tree has been growing at an angle, being slanted for the past 100 years.

The ceremonial campfire on Saturday evening was particularly thrilling and deeply impressive through the lighting of the fire ceremony portrayed by Eagle Scout Carl Leidy, Doylestown, as Chief of the Indian Village. Using the tribal dance of building the fire, Scout Leidy prayed to the God above to give forth light, which came as a ball of fire from the heavens and started the evening campfire. With crafts director Robert Hershey, telling one of his impressive stories, giving inspiration to boys to lead finer lives, and former Scout Executive of Trenton, N. ### SCORE OF 3-1

Last night on the high school diamond the Harriman Hawks defeated La France A. C., 3-1, in a hurling duel between "Hokie" Leighton and "Reds" Devine. The feature of the game was a triple play by the "Franks." The "Franks" play the strong Depression A. C., Friday night on Leedom's field. Their battery will probably be White and Arcolesse.

DEPRESSIONISTS WIN IN AN EIGHT-INNING GAME

Last night on St. Ann's field the Depression A. C. defeated the Jefferson A. C., 7-6, in an eight-inning game. The game was played fast and was exciting throughout. The "Mules" held the "Depressionists" scoreless for five innings when they scored one run. In their last visit to the plate the Depression A. C. took advantage of a few errors mixed with hits to score five runs and tie the score. Umpire Mulholland ordered the teams to play another inning and in their half of the eighth scored the winning run.

The game was a pitcher's battle. Bonfrancisco striking out 11 and Lake striking out 12. Up until the 7th inning, Bonfrancisco only allowed the winners two hits but faltered in the seventh.

W. Tomlinson led the hitting for the losers getting three hits one of which was a home run. Cochrane led the winners at the bat, getting 3 out of 3, but all were singles.

Friday night at St. Ann's field the Jefferson A. C. will play the Harriman Hawks. The McCarry brothers will form the battery for the "Mules."

FOOTBALL PLAYERS ATTENTION

All football players wishing to try out for the St. Ann's Athletic Association team are requested to report to-night at Seneca's pool room, Wood street.

SECOND HALF TO CLOSE

The Lower Bucks County League will come to a close tonight with two games being scheduled. On St. Ann's field, Croydon will play Bristol A. A. in the cellar position fight. This game was originally scheduled to be played at Sullivan's field but was changed by Manager John Mulholland. At Tullytown, the Bristol Hibernians will play the Paterson Parchment Paper Company's nine. The "Hibs" must win this game to win the second half. A defeat to the Bristol club will mean that the second half will end in a tie between the locals and Hulmeville.

BLOOMER GIRLS TO PLAY

Emilie Bloomer Girls will play Harriman Hawks, married men's team, Friday evening, 6:15, on Bristol high school grounds.

Disputed Finish at Olympics

Running practically a dead heat Lauri Lehtinen of Finland (left) and Ralph Hill of Oregon are shown finishing the five thousand meter (3 miles 188 yards) race at the Olympic Games. The decision awarding the race to Lehtinen was booed by the crowd of 60,000 as it was thought by many that the Finn deliberately prevented Hill from passing him on the homestretch. The time was 14 minutes 30 seconds, beating the old Olympic mark held by Nurmi.

in 1932 Hydrofined Oil Replaces "STANDARD" MOTOR OIL

Essolube, the only hydrofined oil, is now available to every motorist at the price of ordinary oils.

This oil is a result of the great hydrogenation discovery. Hydrogenation of atmospheric nitrogen was the chemical secret that enabled Germany to produce unlimited quantities of explosives and thus to "carry on" years after the experts considered her continued struggle impossible.

Hydrofining, developed by the Standard Oil scientists, is an advanced process which makes the hydrogenation of motor oil commercially possible.

Hydrofining gives Essolube all the five essential qualities for complete lubrication.

The finest Paraffinic oils have three of these essential qualities. Naphthenic (Asphaltic) oils have two of them. Essolube, by hydrofining, combines all five qualities. There has been no commercial method before hydrofining that combined the good qualities of these two types of oil.

It is so superior to all other oils that we are not only proud to name it after its companion product in quality, Esso, "more powerful than any gasoline," but we have replaced the widely known "Standard" Motor Oil with this new product.

Hydrofined Essolube sells at no extra cost.

It is on sale at all stations and dealers of the following companies: Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, Standard Oil Company, Incorporated in Kentucky, Colonial Beacon Oil Company, Inc.
